

Electrolytes are compounds that conduct electricity in solution

Acids, bases, and salts ionize or dissociate in  $H_2O$  solutions to form ions

In general organic compounds are non electrolytes a.k.a carbon ones